Customer Reviews

Sometimes reviewers take liberty to inflate their ego and trash the works of others. I've noticed that in some of the low reviews on this work. I'd like to offer a review without being a member of the Kabbalah Center, nor a "hater" of it. I was checking out the Kabbalah Center and their store gave me this book for free. Impressed, I took it home and started reading it. What I liked was the simplicity of the work. It reminds me a lot of the Dalai Lama's works for the General Audience. This work raises some good topics, such as what is prosperity. True Prosperity isn't Desire for One's Self Alone. The book continues to show the nature of reality is beyond our ordinary/mundane perceptions. that we only see the 1% realm. It goes into consciousness... and how to change things in our life through changing our attitudes, perceptions and actions. The book also covers the 5 enemies of spiritual growth. It also offers a section for business owners - how to manage a company and its employee's, spiritually. It also covers the subject of taking ownership - and becoming a leader (even if one is not a 'boss' at their job, they can still be proactive and be a leader.) Someone ignorantly commented that the book mainly tells people to give to the Kabbalah Center. It's not true. The book does cover the subject of Tithing. Giving 10% back to the Divine. How that's done, the author leaves up to the reader. It could be a church, a charity and so forth. By giving of the 10% of our income, we are taking the lowest realm, and dedicating it to the higher realms. the 1/10th realm becomes sacrificed through the 10% tithe. Sacrifice means to "make Holy" and that is exactly what occurs when one gives 10%.
